Double layer denim fabric with Kevlar is a type of motorcycle jean that provides enhanced protection for riders. The double layer refers to the denim fabric being reinforced with an additional layer of Kevlar material. Kevlar is a highly durable and abrasion-resistant synthetic fiber commonly used in protective gear such as motorcycle clothing.

The combination of denim and Kevlar in double layer jeans offers increased strength and resistance to tearing and abrasion in case of a fall or slide. This helps protect the rider's skin from road rash and other injuries. The double layer construction provides an added level of protection compared to single layer jeans.
